

Hello my name is Danielle Declich and I am a San Diego native however my family and I were living in Ventura County for the past nine years. My husband received a job offer allowing us to move back to San Diego in August. We chose to live in Tierrasanta and have fallen in love with our community. As a small business owner and mom of a soon to be school aged son, I would like to play an active role in the community. With my educational background, a Bachelor's Degree in Sociology and a Master's Degree in Human Behavior, along with my past work experience in local government and now owning my own mobile boutique, I believe I would be a valuable asset to the Tierrasanta Community Council. I look forward to resolving the communities issues and continuing to make Tierrasanta a wonderful community.
